Results:

Exercise 3.1:
The theoretical answer should be around 0.785 since the mean in the standard deviation of the average area of the circles would be this.

Exercise 3.2:
Since a uniform signature should not be used to a static method since the purpose of a static method should be to change variables with the method and not the keep them uniform.